Behind the butt pad of all our 900 Series 12ga models lies our revolutionary Equipoise Balance System. It uses a modular stacking method of precision weights which allow each shooter to tailor the weight distribution of the gun to their personal shooting style, preference and discipline.

Every new 900 Series Webley & Scott shotgun action is machine sculpted from a single steel alloy block. There are no small fastenings or rivets to work themselves loose. This process is more expensive but the result is a solid, reliable and durable shotgun action designed to last well beyond its impressive 5 year warranty.

Webley & Scott Boudicea

The Boudicea Shotgun is our first dedicated ladies' gun, with a shorter length of pull and stock dimensions designed to suit the smaller framed shooter. The elegant scroll engraving on the action faces will impress in any shooting environment. As with all Webley & Scott 12g shotguns, this model also features the Equipoise balance system (only fitted to 12g), along with the adjustable comb, allowing the shooter a custom, personalised fit to your shooting style.

INDUSTRY LEADING RIFLE BARRELS

All PROOF Research barrels are rifled using single-point cut rifling, lead lapped and thoroughly inspected at multiple quality control stations throughout the manufacturing process. Our world class manufacturing process reflects our dedication to our customers and ensuring they are receiving nothing but the best.

CARBON FIBRE BARRELS

Our patented manufacturing process begins with full-profile, match-grade 416R stainless steel barrel blanks that are made in our firearms division. These blanks are then turned down to a significantly reduced profile greatly reducing weight. This reduced contour barrel is then wrapped with high-strength, aerospace-grade carbon fiber impregnated with a proprietary matrix resin developed by our advanced composites division, PROOF Research ACD. The carbon fibers we use have a unique ability to diffuse heat along the length of the barrel (much like fiber optics transmit light).

Carbon fiber also moves heat very effectively through the wall (thickness) of the barrel greatly increasing heat transport resulting in barrels that cool faster, maintain accuracy over longer sessions of fire, and live longer.

UP TO 64% LIGHTER THAN EQUIVALENT STEEL BARRELS
MATCH-GRADE ACCURACY
IMPROVED HEAT DISSIPATION
NO POINT-OF-IMPACT SHIFT DURING HIGH VOLUME FIRE
REDUCED HARMONIC BARREL VIBRATION
UNPRECEDENTED DURABILITY

STEEL BARRELS

We make our steel barrels in-house with the exact same commitment to quality and repeatability as we employ on our carbon fiber barrels. The drilling, rifling, and lapping process is identical to our composite barrels. We start with the same steel as we use in the carbon fiber barrels. It is a double stress-relieved 416R stainless steel, a pre-hardened chromium stainless steel that was specifically designed by engineers in collaboration with rifle barrel makers to provide the consistent, high quality and durability the firearms industry demands.

Excellent machinability for gun drilling and reaming, plus exceptional polishability for uniform lapping. A homogeneous microstructure which responds to heat treatment providing a uniform hardness along the length of the barrel. An optimum combination of high tensile strength along with requisite toughness to withstand extreme chamber pressures encountered during firing. Excellent erosion wear characteristics and corrosion resistance

VERTICAL GRIPS

Marksmen often struggle with finger placement on the trigger. Not anymore. Fore and aft adjustment allows for perfect finger placement, and the vertical grip facilitates a straight pull on the trigger. Easily adjustable.

Realizing that the vertical grip orientation is the preferred position for some competition shooters, we at MDT have created our Adjustable Vertical Grip, consisting of a polymer core and two polymer side panels. The panels are removable and hold a similar shape to our original MDT Pistol Grip to provide comfort and hand support whether shooting prone or in position.

Rovince have been developing and producing clothing with unique added value since 2009, namely: sustainable protection against tick bites.

Over the past 10 years they have become an authority in the field of tick-proof clothing and their garments are used in many professional sectors, including the German Army. From outdoor professionals to dog walkers, Rovince Clothing is proving invaluable in the prevention of tick bites and their serious health outcomes.

Rovince's fabric is factory-treated with Permethrine, which causes the so-called "hot feet effect" - when a tick comes into contact with the fabric, it almost immediately becomes paralyzed and falls off the garment.

Rovince offer top-to-toe solutions including jackets, pants, polos, shirts and socks, for men and women.
